

Promotion of ISO 14001 in Bangladesh

The British High Commission in Dhaka, in partnership with Waste Concern has launched a project from September 2003 to help businesses improve their market potential through use of ISO 14001.

ISO 14001 is an internationally recognized accreditation standard for environmental management systems. It is a standard, which is based on better environment management leading to better environmental performance, increased efficiency and greater return on investment.

Opportunities available under this project are:

- Information resources on ISO 14001
- Workshops designed to lead up to accreditation
- Free consultation to business groups interested in certification
- A subsidized rate of assessment for some industries.
